SYNOPSIS.

Marding Kent calls on Louise Farrish to propose marriage and finds the house in freat excitement over the attempted autide of her sister Katharine. Kent starts an investigation and finds that High Crandall, suitor for Katherine, who had been forbidden the house by General Farrish, had talked with Katharine over the kelephone just before she shot herself. A torn piece of yellow paper is found, at sight of which General Farrish is stricken with paralysis. Kent discovers that Crandall has left town hurriedly. Andrew Fiser, an aged banker, commits suicide about the same time as Katharine suicide about the same time as Katharine stempted her life. A yellow envelope is found in Elser's room. Post Office Inspector Davis, Kent's friend, takes up the case. Kent is convinced that Crandall is at the bottom of the mystery. Katharine's strange outcry pusies the detectives. Kent and Davis search Crandall's room and find an address, Lock box F. Ardway, N. J. Kent goes to Ardway to investigate and becomes suspisious of a "Henry Cook." A woman commits suicide at the Ardway Hotel. A Box IV. Ardway. N. J. Kent goes to Ardway to investigate and becomes suspisious of a "Honry Cook." A woman sommits suicide at the Ardway Hotel. A yellow letter also figures in this case. Kent calls Louise on the long distance telephone and finds that she had just been palled by Crandall from the same booth. "Cook" disappears. The Ardway postmaster is missing. Inspector Davis arrives at Ardway and takes up the investigation. He discovers that the dead woman is Sarah Sacket of Bridgeport. Louise telephones Kent imploring him to drop the investigation. Kent returns to New York to get an explanation from Louise. He finds the body of a woman in Central Park and more yellow letters. He sees Crandall, whom he recognizes as "Cook," enter the Farrish home. Louise again implores Kent to depo the investigation and refuses to give any explanation.

CHAPTER X-(Continued). "I saw Hugh Crandall leaving this house not ten minutes ago," I said. "Really!"

Her tone was cold, hard, forced. though she tried to make it sound natgreal.

"It was he who broke open your deak," I cried. "He wanted to regain possession of that scrap of paper and thus remove all evidence of his guilt.

"I am afraid," said Louise with the manner of offended dignity, "that you are entirely mistaken. I was not aware that you knew Mr. Crandall by

"If that wasn't Hugh Crandall who came out of your house just now, who was it?" I saked, my anger at this man whom I believed responsible for the chain of evil getting the better of me. "I don't know Crandall, but I know the evil he is responsible for, For the tragedy of your sister, the plight of your father, the suicide of old Andrew Elser, the suicide of that poor woman out in Ardway. Why, not an hour ago I helped drag from the park lake a fifth victim, a poor young girl, driven to death by another of his accursed yellow letters. I found the fragments of it, water-soaked and illeglble, in the lake."

"Mr. Kent," interrupted Louise, "you were kind enough to undertake a mission on my behalf and I appreciate it greatly. Certain circumstances have arisen that have entirely altered matbers. I called you up last night and asked you to drop all investigations. You have said that you love me. By that love you say you hold for me I now ask you, no-more-I order you to make no further attempts to solve the mystery-please. Harding, please." Her voice broke, and with one last gesture of appeal she flung herself into a chair and covered her face with ber hands.

Perplexed beyond measure with the turn affairs had taken, with my heart aching with sympathy for her, I stood watching her slender form as it shook with sobs, trying to make up my mind what to do. My heart bade me promise her anything, everything if it would bring her peace of mind, yet my brain told me that it was best for her, best for every one, if I should go ahead as my friend, the inspector, had advised.

"Louise,' I began, trying to keep my voice steady, "if you will answer me one question-

"Don't, Harding, please don't," she sobbed, lifting her tear-stained face to me in entreaty. "You mustn't, You mustn't ask me any questions. If you love me, please do just as I say."

"Louise," I replied almost sternly, "you are not yourself. Can't you rely on me? Can't you trust me? Don't you know that I will do nothing that is not for the best?"

I gathered her into my arms and beld her close. I pressed my lips mgainst ber fragrant hair where it strayed from under her automobile bonnet. As she lay unresisting in my arms her sobs decreased and she became calmer.

"My darling," I said, "I know that pain becomes so terrible. Hugh Crandall has been here. I feel that he has been influencing you heart bids you and tell me everything about it?"

She drew a long deep breath and mently freed herself from my encireling arms and, facing me, looked at over her lovely face.

"You must do what I tell you. can answer no questions. I wish I me. It isn't my secret."

"The car is waiting, Miss Louise." gave a start, and reaching her hands dire import of what had happened. out impulsively to me, in more like her own dear voice, said to me: "Harding, I must go. Please trust of you. Good-by."

and ran to the front door.

By the time I reached it after her been in the house but the doctors and ing your friends courteously and tryshe was already in the car. I tried nurses. to catch the direction she whispered tabed around the corner.

Illustrations by Y.I. Barnes that in some way Louise, too, had been ensnared by the master of crime who had plotted all this evil, but how, I could not imagine. Yet more and more, it seemed to me, all clues pointed to Hugh Crandall, What could have been Louise's motive in denying to me that he had been in the house?

She must have known it.

I began to wish that I had taken Davis' advice and remained in Ardway. Perhaps by this time I would have had some definite clue. I resolved to go back there at once. The Inspector seemed to think that that was the most fruitful field for investigation, and probably he was right. Hailing a taxi, I bade him drive me to the ferry, but to my great annoyance reached it just two minutes too late to make a train. Too dispirited to do anything else, I entered the waiting ferryboat, and, sinking into a seat in the corner, gave myself up to bitter reflection on my failure to solve the problem I had set myself. The more thought about it the more firmly I became convinced that it was wise to disregard Louise's request. My love for her, my duty to her, demanded that I go on. So absorbed was I in my reflections that I did not notice that the boat had reached its slip, and I was almost the last to leave it. Just as I stepped off the gang-plank a huge machine shot by me, giving me barely time to catch a look at the occupants, but in that fleeting glimpse I recognized them both. It was Louise with Hugh Crandall.

CHAPTER XI.

More Discoveries. The worse the injury the less it hurts at the moment. I once saw a it had not been without result. man with both legs cut off laughing and joking with the men who pulled

Quarter a man slive, pour molten! metal into his eyeballs, feed him sait I've answered that question to-day. fish and cut off water, bury him alive Seems like the whole town was in in quicklime, devise what torture you here wanting to know." will and double it, the pain and agony can not equal that which comes to a here?" man who, believing in and trusting and loving a woman with his whole heart, is forced to admit to himself didn't ask no questions, though I unthat she has deceived him-that she derstand he has been sleuthing has lied to him. In those awful hours around up to Widow Smith's, where came to know the seven hells. I Charlie Rouser boards. If he's looking

"That's about the eighty-ninth time

"Has the post-office inspector been

"He was in here this morning and made just the routine examination. He for anything wrong with Charlie's ac-

"Have you any idea where all that

Heard

"Hias Anything Been

Rouser?"

money came from that we found be-

As I recalled Davis' parting instruc-

out to Ardway, I was more and more surprised that he had not investigat ed further at the post-office. He had seemed to think that the clue to the whole mystery would be found there.

and he had particularly charged me to find out to whom Lock Box No. 17 had been rented. I decided to ask

Miss Cox if she knew anything about it.

as long as I have had anything to do with the office. It is away off there in the corner where it is hard to see into. There's always been more boxes than there was any call for. Not one of them in the lower row ever has been rented, even in summer, when

"Do you ever remember of seeing

She worked industriously at her crocheting for a minute or two before replying and then, putting it aside, said

'It's funny that you should have

"I don't know that I've any business telling you," said Miss Cox, as she debated with herself whether or not she was talking too much, "but I

from what I've seen of you I guess

you're a sight more likely to find him

wasn't sure in my own mind that Charlie hadn't done nothing out of the way,

I don't know as I'd even be telling you about it. But since you've asked

She hesitated, studying my face as if trying to read there whether or not

I meant harm to the missing post-the track of important revelations.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Famous Sword Blades of Japan.

keep away evil spirits. No female is allowed to enter the place, as the presence of women is supposed to be conducive to the appearance of demons, who would certainly bring disaster to the sword's mission. Prayer is of fered before the work begins, and various religious rites must be performed before any one of the swords

can be declared to have been well

To Study Resuscitation Effects.

The American Medical association is to make a study of methods of resuscitation from electric shocks. Many eminent physicians and electrical estigation, which it is hoped will have and truly made.

there's a lot of city folks out here."

any mail addressed to that box?"

thoughtfully:

asked me that."

me, I guess I will."

Seventeen has never been rented went through all of them. Only one ray of comfort came to counts it's my private opinion that he me. As I had asked myself "Why did ain't going to find it. I've been all she lie?" I found myself believing that over the books twice today and there she had done so, not of her own free ain't anything out of the way." will, but impelled by some motive so powerful that she could not resist it. That it was the influence of Crandall could no doubt. He had so preyed on her fears for her father and sister perhaps on her fear for me, that he had induced her to try to persuade me to give up my investigation and had made her promise to accompany him on some doubtful secret mission.

"It is not my secret." I recalled the piteous cry my entreaties had wrung from her lips, and found the logical explanation of it in her having been terrorized by that villain, Crandall. If I could have found him at the moment I could have killed him with my naked hands.

Yet even though I was convinced that Louise had lied to me, I began to feel that whatever she had done, whatever she was now doing, was in the belief that she was acting for the best for her dear ones, for me.

My duty to her, my duty to myself I reasoned, demanded that I do my utmost to solve the hideous mystery and free her from the fear that I was sure was responsible for her strange actions. I swung off the train at Ardway and hastened to the hotel, eager to tell Davis what I had learned about the movements of Hugh Crandall, but Davis was not there. All that I could learn was that he had hired a horse and buggy early in the morning and had driven off in the direction taken | hind the cash-drawer?" by Crandall the day before.

'If he is following Crandall's trail," said I to myself, "he is just a day too stamps and his stamped envelopes is late."

So long as Davis was not about I in Wall street, or maybe somebody decided I might as well see if the miss- left it there with him for safe-keeping postmaster had been found. As I ing." walked up the street I could not help thinking how dumfounded Davis would tions to me when I had first come be when he returned from his fruitless chase for Crandall and listened to my tale of Crandall's actions. While he had advised against my return to the city, he would have to admit that

As I entered the post-office I found that Miss Cox was still in charge. him from under a car. Though he Approaching the letter window, I bade died in ten minutes, I doubt if he suf- her good afternoon and asked if there fered half as much as if he had was any news of the missing postmasbumped his head or had run a splinter | ter. It was late in the afternoon and under his thumb-nail. It is when you the last mail for the day having been

"I Saw Hugh Crandall Leaving This House Not Ten Minutes Ago."

In the few minutes I had had with Louise I had not realized the depth of against me. Won't you do what your the wound in my heart her conduct toward me had made. Even when I saw her dash away from me in an automobile, pained though I was that our interview should have been cut short, I still did not comprehend what a terme with firm resolution written all rible blow it was that had befallen me. It was the sight as I left the I ferry of the automobile dashing by, with Louise-the woman I lovedsould, but I can't. You mustn't ask seated beside Hugh Crandall, that gave new poignancy to my pain, that added to the fires of jealousy, that As the maid's voice interrupted she made me understand to the full the

Louise had lied to me. Crandall had been in the house. She had seen him. She had left me to me, and please, please, do what I ask join him. She had even deserted her difficulty lies in being decent to those helpless sister and her dying father who are devoted to us-to those who She broke from my encircling hands to go with him. And all the while her are ever willing to forgive our shortlips had protested that no one had comings. There is no duty above treat-

As I paced the platform and paced ony of the lives of those you love. to the chauffeur but could not. Before it back again, waiting two weary hours in home life tact will succeed often I could collect my thoughts the great for an Ardway train, as I sat for two where command will fall. Suggessixty horse-power machine had van- unending hours more in the long ride tions will go farther than argument. through New Jersey, like a poisoned Direction is so much better than dic-Where was she going? It seemed knife, cutting my heart to shreds and tation. Criticism of loved ones is a to me that every hour added to the cutting the shreds again, the thought vice that takes possession of one like that she cannot afford to have more chain of mysteries in which I had kept coming back to me over and a stimulant, or a drug, once it is en- than one diamond neckiace for all and couraged. It may begin in our so tumes." become involved. I was convinced over: "She lied to me."

are mortally hurt and live that the | distributed, she sat crocheting. She motioned to me to come around to the rear door,

"How about it?" I asked as I entered the office, "has anything been gineers are to co-operate in the invesheard of Rouser?" She shook her head, important practical results.

ing to illuminate the general monot-

Tact Better Than Command Good Idea to Lot "Less Criticism and called high moral standard and hatred More Comradeship" Be Your Gulding Motto. "Less criticism and more comrade-An Eden can be ruined by constant ship," would be a helpful maxim for fault-finding, selfishness, and withall homes. colding the words of praise. A para-It is easy enough to be pleasant to dise can be created by small kindnessthe casual acquaintance, but the great es and by thinking sweet and helpful houghts of those about you.

parative?" "It must be when a girl complains of sin. But once It becomes a habit, it is indulged in for the satisfaction it

The next time you feel like criticis ng a loved one, force yourself to say comething complimentary to him in-

Try it and see if you won't be hap-

Exactly. "Do you believe that poverty is com-

LD friends are the blessings greatest love and the greate scrutness and the most open communi word conveys one's meaning. emory of the same events cation and the noblest sufferings and th

tost exemplary through.

severest truth and the heartiset counse

and the greatest union of mind of which brave men and women are capable.

WAYS OF SERVING THE DYSTER

Hefore the oyster is out of market,

let us try a few new ways of serving

Oysters a la Gordon.-Bring a cup of cream to the boiling point, add a third of a cup of bread crumbs, a dash of paprika, a pinch of salt, a grating of nutmeg, a tablespoonful of butter and

Oysters a la Long Branch.-Drain

a pint of oysters. Cook a cupful of needed. When the celery is cooked.

add a tablespoonful of butter, the juice of half a lemon, a grating of the peel and three tablespoonfula of orange or any fruit juice. Bring to the boiling point, cook the oysters until

French Way of Cooking Oysters .-

Make a sauce of a tablespoonful of butter, two of flour and a cup of tomato juice. Add a tablespoonful of chopped onion, two tablespoonfuls of ange or any fruit juice. Bring to the

Cover and cook until the cysters

Waldorf Oysters.-- Put three tablespoonfuls of olive oil in a saucepan, and a small onion sliced, a shredded

green pepper; fry slowly until done,

then add a pint of oysters, or more, a dash of salt, red pepper and two tablespoonfuls of currant jelly. Cook five minutes, then add a tablespoonful of tomato catsup. Boll up and serve

For a little word of lave;

Speak it, then, and as the sunshine Glids the lofty peaks above.

So the joy of those who hear it Sends its radiance down life's way. And the world is brighter, better,

For the loving words we say.

-E. A. Rexford.

INVALID COOKERY.

In cooking eggs for those who are

They may be cooked from the very soft to the hard stage by using the simple method of boiling water. Allow a pint to an egg, cover the dish and keep in a warm place. If wanted hard, leave the egg thirty minutes; if wanted soft, take out in eight to ten minutes; if liked medium, take out at

Egg baked in cream is a very appetizing manner of cooking an egg.

Pface a tablespoonful of cream in a small ramekin, drop in the egg, season with butter and salt and set in the oven long enough to coddle the Beat the white of an egg until stiff,

season with salt and drop the white on a piece of buttered toast, making a nest, then place the yolk in the center and season. Put into the oven

Shirred Egg.-Mix together an eighth of a cup of bread crumbs and a half tablespoonful of butter; sfir until well mixed. Cover the bottom of an egg shirrer or ramekin with the buttered crumbs, break in an egg.

sprinkle with salt, cover with more crumbs, And set in the oven to cook

Coddled Egg.-Scald a third of a cup of milk, add one egg beaten slightly, cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until a soft, creamy consistency, then season with salt and a dash of cayenne. Serve with toast

Sometimes dainty bread and butter

sandwiches will be eaten with relish

when bread with butter would be re-nellie maxwell.

His One Request.

"Do you want your wife to vote?"

high idea of civic responsibility. "All

I ask of her is that she won't say

'What a bother!' when election hap-

His Trade.

at picking locks, yet nobody stops

"How does he avoid trouble?"

"There goes a man who is an expert

"Never gets in any. He's a ladies

Just the Thing.

thing exciting to read; something seal-

Husband-By jove, I want some

Helpful Wife-Here is my dress

Found Way to Win.

Information.

"Paw, what is a 'deadly parallel'?"

"The railway tracks at any grade

"I've found the key to success at maker's bill, dearest!-Puck.

one of Wer bridge parties."

hairdresser."

-Puck.

crossing Bobby;

"I do," replied the man, who has a

until the white is set.

points or fingers.

for a few minutes to just set the egg.

the end of fifteen minutes.

ill, it is of utmost importance that should not be toughened

ANY a heart is hungry, stary piping hot.

the edges curl, and serve on toast.

SEASONABLE DISHES.

and have the same mode of thinking.

-Horace Walpole,

Wash, scrape and parboil a half dozen paranipa. Split a young chicken down the back and lay in a drip ping pan, skin side up. Arrange the sliced parsnips around the chicken, sprinkle with salt and pepper, dot it: with bits of butter, cover with thin slices of salt pork, add enough bot water to prevent burning, and bake until the vegetable and chicken is ten-

Fry slices of thick, meaty tomatoes a cup of chopped oysters. Cook unin olive oil, season with onion juice til the oysters are well cooked and salt, with a dash of cayenne. Serve with lamb chops or veal croquettes.

A thick slice of tomato, sprinkled finely cut celery in the oyster liquor with chopped onion and served with until transparent, adding water if French dressing is a good and pretty Cocoanut Drop Cakes.-Soften a half cup of butter, but do not melt it, add a cup of light brown sugar, a cup of sour milk, a teaspoonful each of cinnamon and cloves, and soda, two cups of flour; beat all together thoroughly, then add a half cup of shredded cocoanut. Drop by small spoonfuls on buttered sheets and "No, and I don't see that it's any of bake in a moderate oven. Add more my affair. His books is right, and his flour if the cakes do not keep their shape all accounted for. Maybe he made it

English Muffins.-Dissolve an yeast cake in a quart of lukewarm milk, add a teaspoonful of salt and add enough flour to make a good batter; set to rise. When light, stir in a half cup of melted butter, and when well blended and light again, pour into muffin pans and rise. When very light, bake. Serve toasted. Butter generously and serve hot.

Marmalade Pudding.-Mix a cup of flour with the same amount of stale crumbs and beef suet chopped fine. one egg, a half teaspoonful of salt, and a cup of marmalade, orange or any other kind; turn into a buttered bowl, tie up in a cloth and steam three hours. Serve with hard sauce.

He gave to misery (all he had) a tear, He gained from heaven ('twas all he wished) a friend, -Charles Lamb.

HOUSEHOLD CONVENIENCES.

Many people have large, useful trays, but they are never used except on state occasions, while every day weary steps are taken which might be divided by ten if one used some utenam as anxious as anybody to find out sil for removing dishes and food from what's become of Charlie Rouser, and the table to the pantry. A wire dish tray is convenient and light. If one does not care to use a tray, the than Jim Dobbs, the constable. If I dishes may be piled into it and quickly removed. If one was handy with tools, the handy man could make, with little expense, a wheeled tray which could hold the entire meal, and remove it in another trip.

The small wheels from a go-cart are used on home-made trays.

master. I tried not to exhibit undue The use of paper or wooden plates interest, though inwardly I felt quite in the kitchen for much of the leftjubilant. I was certain that I was on over food are light and easy to handle, and not expensive to replace when soiled.

Paper of all kinds in the kitchen saves the table, saves dish washing. Swords equal to the famous blades of Toledo and Damascus are made in and is an all-round step saver. A roll of paper toweling to use for greasy Japan by a special series of processes. dishes, wiping knives of grease and but a feature of the industry is the reacid, wiping out greasy plates, is inligious ceremony that accompanies the work. On the walls of the huts valuable. Manila paper may be used for many purposes as work savers. in which the operations are carried on Use it for a molding board or for are representations of the god of the crumbing croquettes, then the soiled sword-makers and the chief goddens paper can be burned, where a board of the Shintos. There are also bits of paper and wisps of straw, charms to would have to be washed.

A bottle of kerosene near the sink to wipe it out, will save much scour-

When cooking a salad dressing or a white sauce, a custard or many vegetables, prepare more than is needed for the time being. It takes but little more fuel and time to practice this economy.

If one has a table covered with zinc in the kitchen it will save much cleanng, and is indeed a joy forever.

Keep small squares of cheese cloth to wipe the meat before cooking. These may then be dried and burned. These small bits are nice for use in pens to come on the same day with straining soups, fats or vinegar.

Would Leave Nature Alone. "When Nature has decided on the color of an eye, it is not for man to alter it," remarked Mr. Plowden at him." Marylebone in fining a man for blackening another man's optic.--London Chronicle.

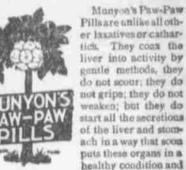

His Ultimatum. "Papa, may I hike with the suffragettes?"

"Not if it calls for anything in ly blood curdling. the way of a special hiking costume, my dear."

Hard to Get Right Course. Playfulness is a good means of softening social distances. A stiff, grave last," said the poet, as he bought a man is always in danger of being twenty-five cent cigar. "I had it given feared too much. On the other hand, out in the papers that I used to be as the self-love of many people is Convict No. 78,654, and was pardoned suspicious in the extreme, you must out because the governor liked one of expect that your innocent playfulness | my poems. Since that time my books will often be mistaken for ridicule.- have been among the six best sellers. Sir Arthur Helps.

"Why is it every kind of cause is so anxious to get into the newspapers?" "Naturally, to give it pres-tige."

CONSTIPATION

orrects constipation. Munyon's Paw-Paw Pills are a tonic to the stomach, liver and uerves. They invigorate instead of weaken; they enrich the blood instead of impoverishing it; they enable the stomach to get all the nourishment from food that is put into it. Price 25 cents. All Druggists.

Stiff Joints Sprains, Bruises

are relieved at once by un a plication of Sloan's Liniment.

rub, just lay on lightly. "Sloan's Liniment has dead more good than anything I have ever tried for still joints. I got my hand hartso badly that I had to stop work right in the busiest time of the year. I thought it first that I would have to have my hand taken off run I got a bottle of Sloan's Limment and cared my hand." WILTON WHEELER, Morris, Als.

Good for Broken Sinews G. G. JONES, Baltiein, L. I., writes:
—"I used Shoan's Liminant for broken sinews above the knee cap caused by a fall and to my great satisfaction was able to resume work in less than three weeks after the accident."

Fine for Sprain MR. HENRY A. VOERL, 54 Somerse L. Plainfield, N. J., writes : - 9

BIGGEST RACE PROBLEM.

"Bre'er Jones, does you think de devil is a black man or a white man?" "I dunno; an' all I does know is-de biggest race problem is how ter keer ten yards ahead of him!"

Perfectly Clear.

"I wonder why so many trains are late?" safd young Mrs. Torkins as she watched the man chalk up the figures on the blackboard.

"Well," replied her husband, "for one thing, traffic is much heavier tuan it used to be. "Of course! And the heavier a load is, the harder work a locomotive has to pull It!"

And a woman either poses, supposes or imposes.

A Jolly Good Day

Follows

A Good Breakfast Try a dish of

Post Toasties

tomorrow morning.

These sweet, thin birs made from Indian Corn are cooked, toasted and sealed in tight packages without the touch of human hand,

They reach you fresh and crisp-ready to eat from the package by adding cream or milk and a sprinkling of sugar, if desired.

Toasties are a jolly good

Nourishing

Satisfying Delicious